THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

TO THE GRADUATING CLASS
UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND, 1967

It is a pleasure for me to extend my best wishes as you complete your college education.

You are graduating into a society in which you will be warmly welcomed. Our country has never had so great a need for highly educated men and women. Never have young Americans moved from the college campus into a world offering so broad a range of opportunities for individual fulfillment and contribution to the welfare of humanity.

Your generation of students has been distinguished by its fresh and vigorous concern for the quality of American life and its commitment to American democracy. Perhaps the greatest opportunity awaiting you is the challenge to make this a life-long commitment.

Today, Americans from every walk of life are striving together to shape a society that can offer a meaningful and rewarding life to all its members. Never have so many of our countrymen been so deeply dedicated to eradicating the old evils of ignorance, poverty, and bigotry from every corner of the land.

Through your years of study, you have prepared yourselves for positions of leadership in this quest for a better America.

I congratulate you, and urge you to take full advantage of that opportunity.

Sincerely,

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

*O say can you see,
—by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hail'd
at the twilight's last gleaming
Whose broad stripes and bright stars,
thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watch'd,
were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare,
the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night
—that our flag was still there.
O say does that Star-Spangled Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?*

MARYLAND ALMA MATER

*Hail! Alma Mater!
Hail to thee, Maryland!
Steadfast in loyalty
For thee we stand.
Love for the Black and Gold,
Deep in our hearts we hold,
Singing, thy praise forever,
Throughout the land.*

HONORARY DEGREES

SPIRO THEODORE AGNEW

Doctor of Laws

Spiro Theodore Agnew was inaugurated as Maryland's 55th elected governor on January 25, 1967. A lawyer by profession, he served as County Executive of Baltimore County for four years immediately prior to his election as governor.

Born in Baltimore City and educated in its public schools, Governor Agnew studied chemistry for three years at The Johns Hopkins University before transferring to the University of Baltimore to study law. He passed the Maryland bar examination six months before graduating with a Bachelor of Laws degree in 1947, despite interrupting his education to serve with the Army in World War II as a company commander in the European Theater. He also spent a year on active duty during the Korean War.

Governor Agnew's meteoric rise in state government began with his interest in civic and public affairs in suburban Baltimore County, where he served as president of the Loch Raven Community Council and worked actively in early efforts for "open spaces" legislation and charter "home rule" government. In the late 1950's, he became chairman of the County Board of Appeals, leaving this position to win election as County Executive.

Highlights of his administration as County head include passage of a public accommodations law — one of the first in the nation — and legislation to require park and recreational "open spaces" in all new subdivisions. Under Governor Agnew's leadership, the County built new schools, opened public kindergartens, improved teacher salaries and classroom ratios, reorganized the police bureau, pioneered in community college curricula to fill employment gaps in the fields of police work and social services, and added hundreds of miles of new water supply and sanitary sewage lines.

At 48, Governor Agnew is one of youngest governors to lead the State of Maryland and is the first American of Greek descent to become chief executive of a State.

HAROLD R. W. BENJAMIN

Doctor of Humane Letters

Dr. Harold R. W. Benjamin, a renowned educator, was dean of the College of Education at the University of Maryland from 1939-51. He holds honorary degrees from Drake University, Pacific University and Rhode Island College and is a recipient of the Medal for Distinguished Service to Education from Newark (New Jersey) State College. He also is the author of a score of books.

After receiving his early education in Wisconsin, Montana and Oregon, Dr. Benjamin graduated with highest honors in education from the University of Oregon. He received his Ph.D. degree from Stanford University in 1927.

Dr. Benjamin served as teacher and administrator for ten years in the schools of Minnesota and Oregon, as associate professor of education and psychology at Stanford University, professor of education and director of the Center for Continuation Study at the University of Minnesota, and as dean of the College of Education and Summer Quarter and chairman of the department of psychology at the University of Colorado, before coming to the University of Maryland. Later, he became chairman of the division of social foundations of education and, since 1958, has been professor emeritus of education at the George Peabody College for Teachers.

James Barrett Reston, associate editor of the New York Times Washington Bureau, has been accorded national and international recognition for his reportorial ability.

Twice he has been awarded the Pulitzer Prize: in 1945 for National Correspondent and in 1957 for National reporting. On three occasions he has earned the Overseas Press Club award for interpretation of international news. Mr. Reston has also received the George Polk Memorial Award for National Reporting, the University of Missouri Medal in 1961, and the J. P. Zenger Award in 1964.

Born in Clydebank, Scotland, Mr. Reston came to the United States in 1910. Beginning his career on the Springfield (Ohio) Daily News, he moved to the publicity department of The Ohio State University and in 1934 became publicity director of the Cincinnati Baseball Club. Following this, Mr. Reston served as reporter for the Associated Press in New York City and London before joining the Times in 1939.

Mr. Reston holds B.S. and LL.D. degrees from the University of Illinois; Litt. D. degrees from Colgate University, Oberlin College and Rutgers University; LL.D. degrees from New York University, Dartmouth College, Boston College and Brandeis University; and D.M.L. degrees from Kenyon College, Columbia University and the University of Michigan.

Academic Degrees

REFERENCE: Projections of Educational Statistics to 1977-78, Office of Education, U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, 1964.

A degree is awarded for the successful completion of a course of study. There are more than 1,600 different academic degrees currently conferred by American colleges and universities.

The first known degree was a doctorate conferred by the University of Bologna in the middle of the 12th Century. Originally, the doctor's and master's degrees were used interchangeably, each indicating that the holder was qualified to give instruction to students. The bachelor's or baccalaureate degree indicated only entrance upon a course of study preparatory to the doctorate or mastership. Gradually, however, the bachelor's degree came to mean successful completion of one level of study preparatory to the higher degrees.

From the continent, the use of academic degrees spread to English universities. Harvard University, William and Mary, and Yale followed the British pattern in the New World.

THE BACHELOR'S* DEGREE

The bachelor's degree represents completion of a four-year course of study of collegiate grade and is the oldest academic degree used by American institutions of higher learning. The degree Bachelor of Arts was first conferred in America in 1642 on nine young men, comprising the first graduating class of Harvard College. Yale conferred its first Bachelor of Arts in 1702; Princeton in 1748; William and Mary in 1753; Pennsylvania in 1757; and Columbia in 1758.

The degree, Bachelor of Science, was awarded to four graduating members of the class of 1851 of Harvard University, probably the first to receive this degree from any institution. From 1851 to 1905, the degree was conferred only upon students registered in the Lawrence Scientific School; after 1905, on students of Harvard, also.

Almost 570,000 bachelor degrees will be granted in 1967 by American colleges and universities.

One of the most striking features about the bachelor's degree is the great proliferation of some of its simple types. There are records of 27 varieties of Bachelor of Music, 108 varieties of Bachelor of Arts, and 426 varieties of Bachelor of Science.

THE MASTER'S DEGREE

The master's degree is an academic honor conferred upon students who have successfully completed one or two years' work in advance of the baccalaureate. A thesis and an oral examination are usually required. The word "magister" connected with a qualifying phrase, was used among the Romans as a title of honor; but its present meaning must be traced to the time of the establishment of the oldest universities.

* Sometimes designated as the baccalaureate degree, from the Latin baccalaureus from baccalaris "under the influence of" and laurus "laurel" used as a designation of honor, distinction or fame.

Regularly organized faculties were not then known as they now exist in the universities. The whole circle of academic activity was limited to seven liberal arts, and those who received public honors on the completion of their course of studies, for their diligence and knowledge, and had already received the degree of baccalaureus (bachelor) were called magistri artium (masters of the liberal arts).

The earned master's degree was first awarded in America by Harvard University in 1869. Currently, about 132,800 such degrees are being conferred in 1967.

THE DOCTOR'S DEGREE*

This is a term meaning teacher, or instructor, applied by ancient Romans to those who delivered public lectures on philosophical subjects. In the Middle Ages, from the 12th century, it came into use as a title of honor borne by men of great learning. It was first made an academic title at the University of Bologna, in Italy, which received from the Emperor the right of appointing doctores legum (doctor of laws). The University of Paris followed in 1145. Soon after, the popes granted the universities the right of appointing doctores canonum et decretalium (teachers of the canon law); and when the study of the civil law came to be combined with that of the canon law, the title was changed to doctor utriusque juris (teacher of both laws). The faculties of theology and medicine followed that of law in conferring this title.

The doctorate in philosophy and science, and occasionally in theology and law, is given beyond the baccalaureate degree, and requires two to five years, the writing of a thesis, and the passing of written and oral examinations.

The doctor's degree represents the most advanced earned degree conferred by American institutions. There are two distinct types: the professional or practitioners degree, and the research degree. The first type represents advanced training for the practice of various professions, principally: Doctor of Medicine, Doctor of Dental Surgery, Doctor of Veterinary Medicine and Doctor of Pharmacy. These degrees carry no implication of original research and are classified by the U. S. Office of Education, with bachelor's degrees, as the first professional degrees.

The second type of doctor's degree is classified as research doctorates representing prolonged periods of advanced study usually accompanied by a dissertation which is designed to be a substantial contribution to existing knowledge on the subject. The most important of these, the Doctor of Philosophy, no longer has an implication of philosophy for its holder, but represents advanced research in any of the major fields of knowledge. It was first awarded in the United States by Yale University in 1861.

Approximately 18,800 doctor's degrees will be awarded by American colleges in 1967.

* The Oxford English Dictionary defines a doctor, in the academic sense as, "One, who in any faculty or branch of learning, has attained to the highest degree conferred by a university."

The Academic Costume

The black caps and gowns worn by the students and faculty in the academic procession are of ancient origin. They have been the traditional costume of the scholar since medieval times and probably represent an adaptation of the ecclesiastical dress since many of the scholars of that period were members of monastic orders.

An intercollegiate commission in 1893 drafted a uniform code for costumes which has since been adopted by the majority of colleges and universities in the United States. Each of the three academic degrees—bachelor, master, and doctor—has its own distinctive gown and hood. The bachelor's gown is distinguished by its long pointed sleeve. The master's gown has a longer, narrow, closed sleeve, extending below the knee; the arm is passed through a slit at the elbow. In contrast the doctor's gown has a full bell-shaped sleeve with three bars of velvet. The opening of this gown is faced with wide velvet bands. The velvet trim may be black or of a color indicating the general field of learning of the wearer, for example, blue for philosophy, green for medicine, purple for law.

The most colorful and distinctive item of the academic costume is the hood which passes around the neck and extends down the back. The doctor's is the largest of the hoods and the bachelor's the smallest. The bachelor's hood is often omitted. The color of the velvet edging indicates the field of learning. Below is given a list of department or faculty colors.
